

Balaji Sreenivasan

Founder, Chief Executive Officer

Balaji Sreenivasan is the founder, Chief Executive Officer, and board member at Aurigo Software Technologies. He started Aurigo in 2003 and has built it into the AI platform for how America's infrastructure gets built. Aurigo manages nearly half a trillion dollars in capital programs for 300 organizations. Balaji's focus is putting AI agents to work alongside the people who build it, from what gets funded first through to closeout. He is an alumnus of the National Institute of Technology (NIT), Trichy, the University of Florida, Gainesville, and the Harvard Business School.