

Yassmin Gramian

Industry Lead, Transportation

Yassmin Gramian, a transportation leader with expertise in emerging systems, brings a proven track record of managing large budgets and complex infrastructure projects. During her tenure as PennDOT secretary, she oversaw a $10 billion annual budget for the state's vast transportation network, including highways, bridges, and other assets. Her leadership extends beyond PennDOT, with experience on boards like the Pennsylvania Turnpike and the Intelligent Transportation Society of America. Yassmin's background also includes consulting engineering experience with Jacobs, HNTB, and WSP. She obtained her bachelor's and master's degrees in civil engineering from the University of Michigan and has completed Dartmouth's executive management program.
